

Help disaster survivors in Indonesia and the Philippines

CRWRC has handed out emergency supplies in Indonesia and the Philippines since typhoons and earthquakes began ravaging south Asia at the end of September. That's what Jesus calls us to do: to help people suffering and in need, and to be beacons of light in the world.

CRWRC is poised to act: the CRC's relief and development agency completed a five-year tsunami response in Indonesia this past June, and has experienced staff and strong partnerships in both the Philippines and Indonesia. "Our local partners and disaster response teams in both countries are trained to immediately spring into action on the ground with the help of local volunteers," said Jacob Kramer, director of international disaster response and rehabilitation. "CRWRC's long-standing disaster preparedness and response training has been key to enabling quick action at the community level immediately following disaster."

Survivors in Indonesia and the Philippines need your help. Please mark your gifts "Indonesia Earthquake 2009", "Philippines/Asia Floods 2009", or "international disaster response fund."
