

If environmental stewardship is your interest and passion—or if you're just curious about Biblical stewardship in today's "climate change" environment—CRWRC's Kenya Creation Care Tour is for you!

Why take a Creation Care Tour to Kenya with CRWRC in 2010?

Creation care
Environmental Stewardship
Climate change

Whatever you want to call it, the world is asking for answers to the increasing vulnerability and food insecurity caused by striking weather variations around the globe. Believers in Jesus Christ have a unique role to play as stewards of creation because we know that "our world belongs to God."

On the Creation Care Tour, you can be part of the climate solution through CRWRC.

CRWRC has not only provided emergency food aid in Kenya, but also addresses long-term issues like environmental degradation. Through reforestation and restoration programs with our Christian partners, CRWRC is helping Kenya's poorest communities improve food security, dig reservoirs, build erosion control terraces, and plant efficient crops.

While enjoying Kenya's gorgeous national parks and wild savannahs, you will also participate with CRWRC partners in reforestation of native tree species, conservation agriculture, carbon sequestration, and no-till planting. Together, we will be working to sustainably restore Kenya's environmental footprint so that it can meet, and continue to meet, the needs of its hungry people.

Kenya: A crucible of Vulnerability

Kenya, named after Mount Kenya, the second highest peak in Africa, is an equatorial country of rugged beauty and pleasant climate. Your Creation Care Tour,, part of CRWRC’s Discovery Tour program, includes a visit to one of Kenya’s most climatologically diverse national parks and other excursions like:

- Tree planting and reforestation,
- Farming God’s Way,
- Community-based environmental education,
- Recycling as art,
- Beekeeping,
- Youth-initiated environmental reclamation.

Why Kenya?

For all of Kenya’s vast natural resources, ongoing drought is causing chronic food shortages and food insecurity. This is due, in part, to deforestation that amounts to loss of eight percent of the country’s total forest cover. With half of Kenya’s 40 million people living on less than $1,600 a year, and three million people already dependent on emergency food aid, Kenyan’s vulnerability to even a small crisis is great.

In the next five years, CRWRC will integrate into our current programming projects in conservation agriculture, food security, Biblical environmental stewardship, and building results through networks of like-minded organizations and individuals —like you.

“God blessed the man and woman, and said
to them, ‘Be fruitful
and increase in number;
fill the earth
and subdue it. . . .’”

Genesis 1:28a
